A Court Case

ADSHEAD versus MOYLE

On Tuesday afternoon Mr. Hartmann, J. P. of Olds, presided over a case brought up by Mr. C. H. Adshead against Mr. E. T. Moyle. The charge laid against Mr. Moyle was for breaking down a fence enclosing a certain piece of ground on the east side of Didsbury. Mr. Adshead kept a cow on this property, which he had rented, and naturally could not keep it in if the fence was down. Mr. Moyle also kept some chicken on the enclosed property and had strongly agitated putting a gate in the fence to facilitate entrance to the grounds. This however had not been done and the fence was found broken on a couple of occasions.

The case was held in Freeman and Austin's office. Tuesday afternoon and Mr. Moyle pleaded not guilty to the charge laid against him. Mr. C. H. Adshead gave evidence that he and Mr. E. Ford, on Monday morning, saw Mr. Moyle break the said fence, early in the morning, Mr. M. B. Birkholde also gave evidence to the same effect. Mr. Moyle did not have any witnesses.

Justice Hartmann, after hearing the evidence adjourned the court for ten minutes and then brought in a verdict of guilty. A fine of five dollars and costs was imposed.

Peace Dawns In Ireland

After many long and bitter years of struggle, marked by horrors and atrocities of all kinds, it would at last appear as if a real peace was dawning in Ireland. With the passage of the Irish Free State constitution by the British Parliament it was felt that peace would almost immediately follow, inasmuch as by that constitution Ireland was granted a larger measure of home rule than was dreamed of by the Home Rulers of the past, and given as liberal and democratic a form of government as is enjoyed by any country today. Unfortunately, there were a few renegadoes who would do nothing less than abolish independence and complete severance of all ties with the British Empire, and so the war continued, notwithstanding, to the Irish people's great chagrin, the destruction of life and property.

However, on the anniversary of Queen Victoria's birth, Edmund de Valera, the Irish republican leader, addressed a letter to all ranks in the republican army calling for disengagement of the armed struggle, ordering the laying aside of all arms, and declaring that the "republic" can no longer be defended by arms. Further sacrifices on the part of the republican irregulars would, Valera declared in vain, and the continuance of the struggle be unwise in the national interests. At the same time the republican chief of staff, Frank Aiken, issued an order that all arms were to be dumped.

All friends of Ireland must rejoice at this decision. The cause of upholding Ireland could never be anything but an idle dream, and the longer it was persisted in, the greater the suffering and loss forced on the Irish people; and the longer the period that must elapse before the Emerald Isle would launch on an assured future of happiness and prosperity.

For this happy culmination of the tragic events of the past few years, the Free State Government and its staunch friends and supporters are deserving of all praise and full credit. From the date of the creation of the Free States, the Government of Ireland have loyally fulfilled their treaty obligations with the British Government, have strenuously upheld the Free State constitution, and have officially set up their own system of class and establish all the institutions essential to the maintenance of law and good government. In the face of seemingly insurmountable difficulties they have succeeded in, what is often an amazingly slow pace of time.

Irishmen have done some wonderful things for the British Empire throughout the centuries of the past. Britain owes much to them. Even in the recent Great War when Britain's enemies sought to induce Irishmen to take advantage of the Empire's life and death struggle to declare their absolute independence and join forces with Britain's enemies, the rank and file of the Irish people remained steadfastly loyal, and tens of thousands of them laid down their lives that the Empire might be saved to do its great work in the world. And what would the world be today if it was not for the strong hand and steady influence of the British Empire?

The ending of the unhappy struggle in Ireland will likewise serve to remove the greatest of all obstacles to the development of a still greater understanding and cordiality between the Empire and the United States. Home Rule for Ireland has for years been almost as great an issue in the United States as in Great Britain and Ireland. It has been used to create misunderstandings and cultivate hatred of Britain throughout the United States, and has led to many ill-founded statements against Great Britain, even by prominent men in the news and columns of leading newspapers in the big cities. United Statesmen have very largely abandoned the armies of discontent and revolt in Ireland, but with the coming of the Free State constitution, the vast majority in the American press were agreed that Ireland's aspirations had been met, and with but few exceptions support for Valera and his renegadoes was discontinued.

If Valera and his followers, having now recognized the inevitable, insist on armed resistance to the Free State Government, it is compelled with their energy and influence to develop Ireland along the lines and acts of peace, Ireland may with confidence look forward to a bright future, moving steadily forward to her proper and rightful place as one of the outstanding nations in that great sisterhood of nations which go to make up the British Empire.

Production of Natural Gas Increasing in Alberta

The Natural Resources Intelligence Service of the Department of the Interior at Ottawa says:

In 1922 Canada produced 11,551,097 thousand cubic feet of natural gas. Of this quantity Ontario produced 7,500,000 thousand feet. Alberta was second with an output of 6,400,000 thousand cubic feet. In 1921 Alberta provided 622,771 thousand cubic feet, and in 1920 Alberta increased its 1921 production by 1,151,116 thousand cubic feet. ## PAIN IN THE JOINTS

An Indication That the Blood is Thin and Watery

The first sign of rheumatism is frequently a pain and swelling in the joints. This is not treated through the blood, which is the seat of the disease, the poison spreads, affecting other joints and tissues—sudden, intense, uncontrollable attacks the heart is fatal.

A remedy that has corrected many cases of rheumatism is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills not only purify the blood so that the potassium-rheumatic matter is driven out of the system as nature intended. Also, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, Only, was attacked with rheumatism and found relief through Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. She says: "About a year ago I was attacked by rheumatism and for two weeks was unable to walk. The trouble was so painful, affecting the joints of my limbs so that I could not stand alone. Mother had a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and when she thought they might help me, I began taking them and when I had taken these pills got a further supply, which relieved me. I am now well again and I was a well girl. I would add that my mother and two of my sisters have also used the pills for various ailments with equal success. You are never without them in the house."

If you are suffering from any condition due to poor water, water, or weak blood, you should take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills now, and note how your strength and health will improve. You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail, at 50 cents a box from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Toledo, Ohio.

How to Address Her

When Lacy A. Goldsmith, export manager of the Goldsmith Company, and one of the best known Canadian trade, attended conventions and banquets, he was very often the only woman present. The chairman at these functions have found difficulty in using the correct phrase to open the meeting. "Gentlemen" would be untrue. "Lads and Gentlemen" hardly seemed to fit the bill. Finally one chairman, more ingenious than the others, evolved, "Males Goldsmith and Gentlemen," and this form of address is now de rigueur in foreign trade circles—New York Globe.

"Vernon" said the teacher of the juvenile class, "define 'ostentation'."

"It's the way our neighbors show off," answered Vernon.

HAD BAD PAINS IN HER HEART

Nerves Were Very Bad

Mrs. John Case, R. R. No. 4, St. Catharines, Ont., writes: "I wish you to know that I have been very much with my heart and nerves. I doctored with two different doctors, but did not find much relief. I would sit and stand in bed for hours at times. I would be almost afraid to move or breathe, and at night I could not sleep. If the pains in my heart were gone, I would be so bad I could not lie still and would only get a little sleep by being tired out. My heart was very bad and I could eat very little, and only certain things or I would have so much distress which always made my heart worse.

I had such trouble for nearly two years until one day I was talking to my druggist about the way I felt. He advised me to take Milburn's Heart and Nervine Pills. I fair tried them and when first taken I am feeling so much better. Spring frosts prepare another seven-acre patch. It is, in this respect, like the lake asphalt in Tribad.

Colonization Association Is To Be Reorganized According To Report

Winnipeg—It is reported that the Canada Colonization Association is to be reorganized immediately upon a new basis, with the Federal Government, the Canadian Pacific Railway and the Canadian National Railway equally represented upon a new board of directors.

It is stated that M. A. Brown, president of the association since its inception, has resigned that position and that a meeting will be held in Winnipeg to complete the reorganization. It is stated that D. C. Coleman and Col. J. S. Dennis, for the Canadian Pacific; A. E. Warren, Vice-President and General Manager of Western Lines, for the Canadian National; and Dr. W. J. Black, Deputy Minister of Immigration, will have places on the new board.

It is stated that the Canadian Pacific and the Canadian National Railways have agreed to contribute $100,000 a year for five years toward the funds of the organization to be added to the general grant.

According to another report, Sir Augustus Nanton, prominent Winnipeg financier, has been asked to head the reorganized organization. Strong pressure is being brought to bear to have him accept the chairmanship of a board of management, which will in future conduct the affairs of the organization.

D. C. Colman, Vice-President, P. L. Nalsmith, Calvary, and Col. J. S. Dennis, Commissioner of Immigration and Colonization, will be the representatives of the C.P.R. on the board. D. Steps have already been taken to run special "settlers" excursions into Canada during the present summer from all parts of the United States.

Trade Treaty With France

Bill Introduced Into Senate Is Given Second Reading

Ottawa.—The Senate gave second reading to the bill to give effect to the trade treaty with France and adopted in committee all clauses except three of the combine bills.

Speaking on the French treaty, Senator Beaupré said there were two conditions which made trade with France difficult at the present time, the depreciation in the value of the franc and the lack of knowledge by the French people of Canadian production. Once the franc regained its nominal value, and there was a fair prospect of this being accomplished shortly, trade with France would be very valuable.

He instances the development of Canada's canned salmon trade with France as an example of what could be done by educating the French people to the possibilities of Canadian trade.

PRAYER FOR PEACE

PRESIDENT HARDING MAKES NOTABLE ADDRESS AT WASHINGTON

Washington.—Standing in Arlington Memorial Amphitheatre and facing the wooded slopes where rest thousands of the war dead of the nation, President Harding uttered a prayer that the United States "do its full part toward making war unlikely, if not impossible."

"We are already proved that we can have less of armament," the President declared. "Let us strive for the assumption that we shall have none of war."

Scarcely had the applause from those assembled in the great national cemetery for the annual Memorial Day exercises died away, when the chief executive coupled with the prayer the hope that should war again come to America, "we will not alone call to service the youth of the land—but we will draft every resource, every activity, all of wealth and make common cause of the nation's preservation."

Several minutes passed before the applause which greeted this pronouncement allowed Mr. Harding to continue.

Britain Retains

Blasphemy Laws

Earl Russell's Bill Refused Second Reading in House of Lords

London.—The House of Lords short work of the Earl of Russell's bill to amend the blasphemy laws refusing second reading by a majority of 63 votes. The object of the measure was to provide that no criminal proceeding should be instituted for schism, heresy, blasphemy or atheism.

"Abolish the blasphemous laws," the Earl of Russell said, "and there will still be protection against offensive language used in public and calculated to endanger the peace."

Lord Phillimore argued from his long experience, pointed out that the measure had no practical effect which would not have on organized Christianity, but thought it might be extremely misleading in an indirect fashion.

On the advice of the Marquis of Salisbury, speaking for the Government, second reading was rejected.

Kingston, Ont.—In his annual charge at the opening of the 57th session of the synod of the diocese of Ontario in St. George's Cathedral, Bishop Bidwell deplored the conditions prevailing in a great part of the world today, pointing out that there had been a spirit of lawlessness spreading over the world and that Canada was not entirely free of this wave.

DESPERADO KILLED

LEO ROGERS, WHO KILLED TWO
CONSTABLES, IS SHOT DEAD

North Bay—Leo Rogers, North Bay desperado and slayer of two constables, is dead, being shot and killed by a posse. The escaped desperado emerged from the bush about eight miles from Nipissing, long enough to be brought down by a bullet from a member of Inspector Storay's party, which, with several other groups, had been hunting Rogers since his escape from a crowded court room with a flourish of a carbined pistol, some two weeks ago.

The killing of Rogers came as the climax to one of the most dramatic manhunts this territory has ever experienced. "Bad Leo" brought down two of his pursuers and wounded another before he himself was dropped by a bullet. He shot Detective Fred Lefebvre shortly after his sensational escape, and sent a bullet through the heart of Sergeant John Urquhart, of the Provincial Police, a member of a party that surprised the gunman in his father's house.

The killing of Rogers was a surprise to the public.

OTTAWA—Methods of meeting the fuel problem are suggested in an interim report issued by the Dominion Fuel Board. The board was organized by order-in-council in November last, under the chairmanship of Charles Cansell, Deputy Minister of Mines. It points out that in the ten-year period ending 1921 Canada's bill for imported coal exceeded the sum of $50,000,000, and emphasizes that the ideal solution of the fuel problem is dependence upon our own resources.

The report urges:

Wider range of coal production in British Columbia, Alberta and the Maritime Provinces.

Investigation into the feasibility of establishing by product recovery coke plants.

That pent should be utilized to supply a portion of the fuel needs of central Canada.

That our wood resources, under proper management, could be utilized for fuel to a greater degree than at present.

The board is of the opinion that, except in an auxiliary capacity, electric house heating is impracticable on a large scale, but electricity for industrial and transportation purposes would set free a large amount of coal for heating.

The report concluded with a word as to the need of educating the public away from anathematizing the coal.

Traffic Falls 60 Feet Into River

Moscow.—A dispatch from Chita, capital of the Far Eastern republic, reports that a passenger train in the Chita-Amur region was wrecked on May 24, with the loss of many lives.

The train fell from a bridge into a river, a distance of 60 feet. Twenty-eight bodies have thus far been recovered and it is believed that forty more are still in the river. More than one hundred persons were injured.

Would Increase Air Force

Admiral Budget

Berlin.—The Reich budget for 1923, as passed by the Reichstag. The budget shows a deficit of 12,400,000,000 marks.

Ottawa—Objections of the National Dairy Council and of dairymen's associations throughout the Dominion to continuance of the importation, manufacture and sale of oleomargarine in Canada were placed before the members of the committee on agriculture by reports of the dairy council and other associations.

In the course of the meeting, the chairman of the dairy council, W. F. Carroll, member for Cape Breton, said, that the committee should not hear one side of the question without also giving those in favor of the continuation of oleo a chance of being heard. Mr. Carroll, who has a resolution on the order paper extending the life of oleo in Canada was ruled out of order by the chairman, Fred Kay, of Mississauga, and left the meeting.

Speakers were D'Arcy, General Counsel; E. H. Stoenhouse, President of the Dairy Council; E. T. Love, Secretary of the Alberta Dairymen's Association; and W. A. Wilson, Saskatchewan Co-operative Creamery Company.

HOPPERS DAMAGING CROP

PLAQUE BREAKING OUT BADLY IN SOUTHWESTERN SASKATCHEWAN

Regina—Millions of grasshoppers menace the growing crops in the southwestern district, west of Assiniboia, Sask. More damage has already been done this year than was suffered in the province during the whole of last season, according to H. F. Auld, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, and control of the pest depends entirely upon the co-operation of the farmers in the districts affected with officials of the Field Crops Branch of the Dept. of Agriculture and municipal officers, who are fighting the hoppers with poison bait.

The locusts will continue to destroy crops until the end of June or the first week in July, when they begin to fly. After that damage will not be so severe.

M. P. Tullis, Field Crops Commissioner, has gone to Assiniboia to personally direct the fight. Mixing stations have been established where farmers may secure bait made of a mixture of bran, rawdust, salt, arsenic and antiseptic.

No Compulsory Wheat
Board

WINNIPEG, June 23.—After prolonged conferences and negotiations, the premiers of Alberta and Saskatchewan have reached the conclusion that it is not possible to form a satisfactory wheat board. This decision is concerned in by representatives of the various organizations who have been in conference here during the week with C. A. Dunning, premier of Saskatchewan, and Herbert Greenfield, premier of Alberta. Last night a statement reviewing the negotiations and announcing the abandonment of the effort to form a board was issued to the Canadian Press, with the signatures of the two premiers, who are to leave for their homes at once.

"We have found it impossible," said the statement, "to secure a board combining all necessary elements of experience, ability and public confidence." The situation was made more difficult it is stated, by the decision of the Manitoba legislature to not co-operate with the western provinces. This made it certain that the trading in wheat in the Winnipeg exchange would continue and men who might have been available had the compulsory board applied to all three provinces, would not accept the responsibility for marketing the crop of the two provinces only. Failure of wheat board plans for the second year in succession will leave the western wheat crop to be marketed under existing machinery. While there has been talk from time to time of a voluntary pool, no definite steps have been taken in that direction.

VOLUNTARY POOL SAYS WOOD

There will be a meeting in the Calgary offices of the United Farmers of Alberta on Thursday to discuss ways and means of organizing a voluntary wheat pool in western Canada, and if Manitoba and Saskatchewan are not willing to take immediate action to co-operate with Alberta, this province is prepared to proceed independently to form a pool of its own.

This announcement was made by H. W. Wood, president of the United Farmers of Alberta.

The meeting will be an informal gathering of certain interested individuals to discuss the matter, and will be closed.

May be in Operation For This Fall

Mr. Wood made the statement that the idea of a compulsory wheat board was probably gone for all time. The pool may be in operation in time to function for this year's crop, as there still remain two months for organization, although Mr. Wood would not commit himself definitely. He said he would not care to predict when the pool would be in operation, but that all possible would be done to hasten its completion, and that there would be no delay whatever.

Preliminary organization work in connection with the pool will be handled through the offices of the United Farmers of Alberta. It was decided where the headquarters will be established, Mr. Wood said in reply to a question.

This action is being taken following a resolution which was unanimously passed at the last annual convention of the United Farmers of Alberta, saying that if Canada or the other prairie provinces did not unite, concerted action to co-operate with Alberta in forming a pool, then Alberta should proceed to form a pool of its own.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 27th,

A fellow about 11 years old came to the editor of this paper the other day and offered to tell about a sad ride that occurred down toward Castailes. The editor bit and the boy said there was a day down there that put him in his mouth and said: "This is the end of me."

The St. Hildegard Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star held a social evening in the hall a whilst drive on Wednesday evening, in honor of Mrs. P. R. Reed who is leaving shortly for Calgary. Mr. Leafield on behalf of the Lodge presented Mrs. Reed with a cut glass dish.

The annual Children's Day program will be observed at St. George's on Sunday morning at 10:30 a. m. and at Tuttland at 2:30 p. m.

Where World's Record Speckled Trout was Taken

For a distance of 850 miles, between Sudbury, on the junction of the two main lines of the Canadian Pacific Rail., and the Manitoba boundary, there are only two rivers that for 80 miles there are only 200. This is the reason why civilization has to any extent approached what is one of the last few remaining accessible wilderness regions of North America. The Georgian Bay region, north of the American continent. From the Nipigon River and Superior to Georgian Bay, a distance of 850 miles long and of width of Kenora, a tract of land 850 miles long and of unknown depth is practically unexplored, and yet this part of Northern Ontario is a land of natural beauty, richly endowed with game and fish. Many streams and larger waterways form a network through the country and almost inaccessible storics are told of the size and quantity of fish, particularly red and speckled trout to be found there, particularly in the northern half of big game.

That this country is sparsely populated is alone responsible for the fact that it is not known to more tourists and sportsmen. Each year the number of tourists are about the same, but the lack of accommodation has kept many more hundreds away. Three of the most fascinating districts of this glorious tract will therefore be rendered more attractive than ever by the erection this summer of comfortable bungalows.

At the Nipigon is called the home of red and speckled trout, and with some truth, for it is undoubtedly the most prolific breeding place for these sporty fish in the world. The world's record speckled trout came from there in 1915 with a weight of 14 lbs. and measuring 31 1/2 inches from head to tail and 11 1/2 inches across. What need to say more, unless it be that the country is equal to any seen at the French River or Lake or the Woods.

The French River bungalow camp is located on an elevation which commands a magnificent view of the great chain of lakes, the Nipigon, Lake of the Woods, and the railway station. The country is characteristic of the Georgian Bay region, rocky islands, deep waterways, and dense pine forests in which all kinds of game are found. The Nipigon is called the home of red and speckled trout, and with some truth, for it is undoubtedly the most prolific breeding place for these sporty fish in the world. "I could see by the tracks that there was a number of 'em: as many as five or six," the old man summed up. "I followed their sign as far as I could, but lost it at the creek. Then I went back to the house and sent some of the boys out to scour around before I come down here after you."

"Where do you suppose they could have taken him?" Trowbridge asked. "They'd never dare bring him to town."

"Gawd knows, Lem! There's more pockets and dirts up in these hills than there are people. I think, likely, the boys'll find some new sign, though not in time; not before that of a Moran—it was him, I mean, that done him! I know it was, Lem, for Gawd's sake, what are we going to do?"

"The first thing to do, Bill, is to get you out of this town, before Thomas Wade comes along and jumps you."

"I don't care for myself. I'll shoot the—"

"Luckily, he's away just now," Trowbridge said, taking the interruption. "Come with me, I'll get the way into the hotel. "Frank" is said to be the red-headed proprietor, "M. Moran" is the way to-day."

"Now, Lem, the Highball regarded Santy with interest. "He went out this morning with four or five men."

"Rexhill's here, ain't he?" Trowbridge asked then. "Tell him there's two gentlemen here to see him. Needn't mention any names. He doesn't know me."

With Santy, with the instinct of his breed, hitched his revolver to a more convenient position on his hip. Trowbridge reached out and took it away, then he forced the door open to the old man in his present mood. He intended to question the Senator to probe him, perhaps to threaten him; but the time had not come to shoot him.

"I'll keep this for you, Bill," he said soughingly, and dropped the weapon into his pocket, unwilling to draw it up with the idea of the effect that that face of yours, looking the way it does right now, But I'll do the talking, mind! It won't take long. We're going to act soon,

Their visit had, no visible effect upon Rexhill; however, who was too much of a man to be caught in a situation in which he reached the point of constant surprise. His manner was not conciliatory, nor the meeting was frankly hostile, but he did not seem to be friendly either.

He had not supposed that the extremes he had sanctioned could be carried through without difficulty, and he was prepared to meet any attack that might come from the Senator.

"Senator Rexhill," Trowbridge introduced himself, "you've never met me. I'm from the Palish Creek country. My name is Trowbridge."

"The Senator added, "I've heard of you. I know your friend there by sight." He lingered slightly over the word "friend" as he gazed nearer the old man.

"Yes. There's a warrant out for your arrest—Tug Baldwin, Tugbridge, I am sorry to say. I know that something would eventuate from his repartee; but nothing did. If the news surprised Rexhill, as it must have, he did not show it. "I've just got in, and I am here to demand that it out, that's not why I'm here. I want to tell you that Gordon Wade, whom you know, has been kidnapped."

Santy stiffened an exclamation of rage in answer to a quick look from his friend.

"Kidnaped? What? In broad daylight?" the latter went on. "I represent his friends, who mean to find him right away, and it has occurred to me that you may be able to assist us in our search."

"Just so, that is what occurred to you, Senator! You'll act calmly, as though out of mere curiosity. "I'd like to know."

A bit baffled by this attitude of composure, Trowbridge hesitated, for it was not at all what he had expected to combat. If the Senator had flown into a paroxysm of rage, he would have responded with equal heat.

He was less sure of himself, however, when he was sure of himself. "I am hardly associate the thought of murder with the very properers looking for Gordon Wade, who so calmly faced me and raised his glasses before his fingers."

"Why should that idea occurred to you?" the Senator asked him.

"To me, too, Senator Wade is also liable to arrest for complicity in the Jensen murder; in addition to which he has effected a jail delivery and has been seen in the company of a man to me he has been kidnaped."

"I am sorry to tell you that I am the last person to have any interest in his welfare, or his whereabouts. Why do you come to me?"

"I am sorry to tell you that I am the last person to have any interest in his welfare, or his whereabouts. Why do you come to me?"

"This was too much for Santy's self-restraint.

"What's the use of talkin' at all?" he responded. "If he ain't done it himself, don't we know that Moran did it for him?" To hell with talkin'!"

He shook a gnarled fist at Rexhill, then, and deliberately looked in another direction.

"This is why we are here," said Trowbridge, which had quieted Santy once and for all. "There is a good reason to believe that, if these acts do not proceed from you, they do proceed from your agent, and you're responsible for it. You're responsible for anythin' about law. This man Moran has carried things with a high hand in this community, but now he's come to an end of his rope, and it's aint to be expected that he's gonna get that you'll get yours, too. If he's acted under your orders."

The cattleman was getting into his stride now, and the next moment of his passion was passed. His voice rang with authority, which the Senator was quick to recognize, although he gave no name to the man he intended to arrest.

"Has Moran been actin' for you?" "You mean below?" Rexhill laughed merrily. "It's you that stop for me to tell you, think you see how absurd this is."

"A frank answer to a frank question," Trowbridge persisted. "I has he been aint to you, too? Do you at this moment, know what has become of Wade, or where he is?"

"That's the stuff!" growled Santy, whose teeth were throbbed under the effort he put forth to hold himself within bounds.

"I do not!" the Senator said, bluntly. "And I'll say free that I would not."

Santy's hands opened and shut convulsively. He was in the act of springing upon Rexhill when Trowbridge seized him.

"That's the stuff!" he roared, struggling in his friend's grasp. "Let me at him. By the great horned toad, I'll make him tell!"

"I had eczema on my face. It broke out in little blisters which formed a hard crust. My scalp itched and burned so badly I was up half the night. My hair fell out terribly and I could not sleep."

"This trouble lasted about three months before I sent for a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. It helped more and I used two boxes of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Soap when I was healed." (Signed) Miss Lydia E. Pinkham, 1910 Delaware Ave., Buffalo, Mont.

BUCRANE

Mr. Joe Munson is spending a few days at his farm in Valeen.

Don't forget the Burnsides U. P. A. picnic on Saturday, June 26th. Ball games, sports of all kinds. Bring your babies and your lunch and have a good time with your neighbors.

We are glad to hear that the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Shultz of Neopolis, who has been so ill with pneumonia, is very much improved. We are also glad to see Mr. Shultz himself, who has just returned from the hospital and an operation for appendicitis, looking so strong and well.

July 4th will be a busy day. Bancroft U. P. A. are having their picnic that day as are also Mayton and Sunnyside.

This district was well represented at the Didsbury Sports on Wednesday.

TO THE HIGH SCHOOL TEACHERS

Another year of school has drawn to a silent close, and holidays are once again with us. Minded with the joyful expectation of our well deserved pleasure, there is an element of sadness that the comrades and teachers of the year must part.

The untiring efforts of our instructors have not fallen on utterly barren soil; and we take this opportunity of thanking our teachers for the labor they have extended on our behalf.

Although Miss Beveridge has been with us only one year, she has proven herself of undoubtedly merit as a teacher and has made a firm friend of every student.

Miss O'Connor, much to our regret is leaving us this year, but the memory of her efficient work and cheerful presence will never be effaced.

As for our principal, Mr. Ljesemer, we cannot speak of sufficient length of his work during the past year. Despite a long illness, Mr. Ljesemer returned to his post and from early morning until late afternoon, was never idle. He has won a secure place in the respect and admiration of every student's heart.

To the whole staff we extend a regretful "Goodbye" and hope that shores will stand them on every pathway of their lives, that golden happiness will cast her glittering shadows forever on their heads.

The High School Students,

they had claimed a change in sentiment throughout the province.

What Manitoba Voted

Under the bill of the Moderation League which Manitoba has adopted, the government will appoint a commission of three members to administer the sale through government stores of any recognized brands of liquor for consumption as a beverage in the permanent or temporary residence of permit holders who may be residents of the province or guests. Breweries will be permitted to do their direct.

The legislature will meet in July pledged to enact into law the bill which was approved yesterday. A second referendum is to be taken July 11 on a proposal of the hoteliers' association for sale of beer and wine in dining rooms of hotels with meals, and should it be adopted also the two systems will be amalgamated under the administration of the government liquor commission.

PINK GODS' REEL DIET

Ever try a diet of "Pink Gods?" Sounds like the name of a new fluffy, ruffly dessert, but it isn't. "Pink Gods," in the Paramount production of that name, are really diamonds, the faultless, delicately pink colors which are so much esteemed. And they're "gold" because women fall down and worship them. Men, who work in the diamond mines, allowed them to get past the guards, then the heartless overseers use the X-ray and have the miners operated upon to recover the uncut stones.

"Pink Gods" is a Paramount feature film featuring Bebe Daniels and James Kirkwood, members of the Paramount stock company. It will be the feature at the Didsbury Opera House July 6 and 7. Bebe Daniels and James Kirkwood are featured.

The year 1922 was a banner year for Montreal in the number and tonnage of ships which came to the port, a total of 6,983 ships of 13,089,600 tons arriving, as compared with 5,511 ships of 9,735,450 tons in 1921.

Canada led the world in 1922 in ship export, and now turns to the United States. The total fur catch for that year was over 4,000,000 pelts, valued at $16,000,000. While the general price of furs shows a downward trend, the total catch shows a remarkable increase.

Fours of the Canadian Pacific line, the Empress of Canada, the Empress of Britain, the Empress of France, the Empress of the Indies, are to load grain at Quebec during the 1923 season, and new berths have been provided for these vessels near the grain conveyors, at a cost of $300,000.

When she was alighting from a steamer at Victoria, B. C., Mrs. Rose McLaren received injuries which prevented her from concentrating and temporarily did away with her earning power as a painter or psychic reader. She was awarded $1,250 against the railway company.

The addition of the 17,000-ton Manitoban to the Canadian Pacific "Mona Class" fleet marks an important development. Not only is she the largest one-class cabin ship ever built for the Canadian Pacific, but she is the largest in her class on the Atlantic. Her length is 613 feet and breadth 68 feet. Because of her size she will sail to and from Quebec.
